

Mary Beaucage, Tamara Beardy, Allison Dart, Arlene Desjarlais, Isabel Flett, George Fontaine, Jocelyn Jones, Joanne Kappel, Malcolm King, Delia Nahanee, Maurice Latash Nahanee, Jon McGavock, Lorraine McLeod, Letitia Pokiak, Darrell Ross Jr., Craig Settee, Helen Robinson-Settee, Catherine Turner, Mary Wilson, Cathy Woods, Evelyn Voyaguer

WHO WE ARE

Indigenous Peoples' Engagement and Research Council (IPERC) ensures Indigenous (First Nations, Inuit, and Métis) voices, including patient partners, Knowledge Keepers, and community leaders, are heard and to guide research priorities that affect Indigenous communities and individuals with kidney disease.

OUR WORK SUPPORTS THE TRUTH AND RECONCILIATION CALLS TO ACTION

We acknowledge the impact of historical traumas on Indigenous health

TRC call to action #18

We are working to close the gaps in health outcomes between Indigenous and non-Indigenous communities

TRC call to action #19

We are developing cultural safety training for research team members

TRC call to action #23

Meaningful consultation, building respectful relationships, and obtaining the free, prior, and informed consent of Indigenous peoples before proceeding with economic development projects

TRC call to action #92

WHAT WE DO

Blanket Ceremony - Vancouver 2018

Land Acknowledgment Learning Series

Knowledge Keepers in Research - Vancouver 2022

Supporting Indigenous perspectives in research and respectful partnerships with Indigenous peoples and communities

Developing resources and relationships to support culturally competent engagement with Indigenous peoples and communities

- Wabishki Bizhiko Skaanj Learning Pathway
- Supporting Each Other's Journey: Land Acknowledgment Learning Series
- Knowledge Keepers in Research

Can-SOLVE CKD Executive Committee recently welcomed two new Indigenous representatives from IPERC

Phase 1

Phase 2

